CATALOGUE OF

Bulbs, Plants and Seeds for Fall Planting

The Cultivation of Bulbs—For winter and spring, for either out or indoor decoration, is very interesting and much easier than is generally supposed. If the brief directions given below and elsewhere in this catalogue be observed, there need be no disappointment in the results. Many of our most beautiful flowers are produced from bulbs, at a time when flowers are most appreciated, their showy beauty and fragrance being very effective, surpassing even in winter many of the most popular summer flowers and furnishing at small cost a constant source of pleasure.

Remember that the Finest Outdoor Displays of the early spring months are from bulbs planted in the fall. We would particularly impress on the amateur that the fall, and not the spring is the proper time to plant all kinds of flowering bulbs. The larger part of the bulbs offered in this catalogue reach us from Europe and elsewhere in September, and the sooner they are planted after that the greater will be the measure of success.

We invite Special Attention to the fact that our bulbs are all selected from the best growers, are sound and of first size, and we would warn intending purchasers against buying cheap, undersized stock and expect the fine results obtained from selected bulbs such as we offer.

Order Early

Orders Should Be Sent as Soon as Possible after receipt of this catalogue. Orders booked earliest are surest of being filled as ordered, as if left too late, the supply of some of the varieties may be exhausted.

TO THE CUSTOMERS AND FRIENDS OF THE COX SEED CO.:

This is the first opportunity we have had to publicly announce that we have purchased the seed, plant, and nursery business of the Cox Seed Co., and have consolidated their interests with ours.

Their Nursery departments at Oakland and Livermore, and their retail store at 125-127 Market Street, in this city, are now in our possession, and we have refitted all of these departments and are assembling a splendid stock of new crop seeds, bulbs, trees and plants. Most of this new crop seed is from our own seed farms and is of strong growth and exceptional quality. Many of the trees and plants we offer are from our own greenhouses and nurseries, and we feel we are ready to give the best possible satisfaction to all who order from us.

We submit these quotations principally to offer our Dutch Bulbs, just in from Holland, but we have also taken advantage of this opportunity to offer such seeds and plants as should be ordered in the Fall. Our general catalogue will be mailed in December.

Hoping to be favored with your orders, we remain,

Respectfully yours,
C. C. MORSE & CO.

GENERAL CULTURE DIRECTIONS

Depth at which bulbs should be planted.

Depths at which Bulbs Should Be Planted

Many of our customers are frequently puzzled to know the proper depth and distance apart at which bulbs should be planted. The accompanying diagram conveys the information much more clearly and briefly than we could describe it. Outdoor planting should be done early in the fall to secure healthy plants, vigorous foliage and beautiful flowers.

Culture in the Open Ground

The soil for most hardy bulbs should be sandy loam, and of a texture that will not retain stagnant water. Well rotted stable manure or bone meal should be thoroughly worked into the soil so that it will not come in direct contact with the bulbs. Most bulbs like rich food if properly applied, as the proper development, luxuriance and brilliancy depend largely upon the nutrition the roots are consuming. Liberal applications of manure water when the flowers are in bud produce magnificent results. The proper depth to plant is carefully indicated on diagram above and deserves careful study.

Culture in Pots

The best potting soil for bulbs is composed of fibry loam, leaf mold and river sand in equal proportions. The pots should be filled lightly and the bulb pressed into the soil so that its base is firmly fixed. As a general rule, the top of the bulb should just show above the surface soil when planted. To encourage and promote root growth, the pots should be buried out of doors to the depth of six inches and left there for five or six weeks. By that time the pots should be well filled with roots and may then be taken indoors. There the warmth will soon bring them into flower. Plenty of water should be applied and liquid manure is beneficial after the flower spikes appear.

Culture in Glasses

Although there are other bulbs used for this method of culture, large, well shaped, single, hyacinths are the best for this purpose. Place the bulb so that the base merely touches the water. Set the glasses in a cool, dark, airy place until the roots have reached the bottom of the glass, which should be in about six weeks' time. If then kept in a cool room, they will produce very fine spikes and remain in bloom a long time. As the water evaporates, fill up the glasses and change the water entirely when needed to keep it sweet and clear. A small piece of lump charcoal placed in the water will prevent it from getting foul.

A Field of White Hyacinths Growing Near Haarlem, Holland.
It is from these fields that we get our supply of bulbs.

HYACINTHS

THERE are no more beautiful and satisfactory Dutch Bulbs than the Hyacinth. They come in all colors; bright red, blue and orange, as well as in the delicate and softer tints—in singles and doubles—for forcing and for the outdoor garden. They can be grown in pots, in bottles, or in the open air, and they are wonderfully beautiful and fragrant.

Plant Hyacinth bulbs in the open ground in the month of November if possible and they will blossom in February and March. For bedding effects plant 6 inches apart. The soil should be made rich with a liberal mulching of manure. After the flowers have died down, late in the spring, the bulbs should be "lifted" and put away in a dry place, and very often they can be used again.

Add 12c per dozen for postage, if ordered by mail.

HYACINTHS

SPLENDID COLLECTIONS OF "MIXED" HYACINTHS

EXCEPT for specialists and fanciers, there is more demand for "assortments" of Hyacinths, grouped in colors, and to meet this demand we have secured a fine large stock of assorted colors as offered below. These come quite a little cheaper in price and can be afforded in larger quantities, and are therefore recommended for beds and borders. These bulbs are what the Dutch bulb growers call first size and are of the best quality.

DUTCH ROMAN HYACINTHS

Known also as Miniature Hyacinths.

These hyacinths are especially adapted for forcing in green houses, for they can be made to blossom very early. There are fewer flowerets on the stem, but where the large hyacinth has but one flower stalk, the Romans have 3 to 5, and the spikes are graceful and attractive and the fragrance more pronounced and delightful.

FRENCH ROMAN HYACINTHS

The flowers of this type, while smaller than the Dutch Hyacinth are borne in much greater abundance, each bulb bearing several graceful flower spikes. They are especially fragrant and extremely early, also easily grown. If potted in August they can be brought into bloom in November and December, and a succession of flowers can be had throughout the season. For cutting purposes the French Roman Hyacinth is the finest bulb grown.

TULIPS

TULIPS are too well known to require any description as to their value in the garden. While they come in white and soft tints, they are best known in the brilliant shades, and bright, gay colors are what we associate with the Tulip. For cut flowers we now have the splendid long stemmed late or May-flowering varieties, but for brilliant bedding effects the early flowering or ordinary Tulip is the type required. For forcing and pot culture the Duc Van Thol type is recommended.

There are hundreds of varieties of Tulips, and while we have not tried to list every one, we have listed the very best varieties and all those that the most particular planter might wish.

The very best varieties for California planters are the "late flowering," "May or Cottage," and "Darwin" Tulips. We have a splendid assortment of these and plenty of them and recommend them to all who love flowering Dutch Bulbs. See special varieties on page 3 of cover.

(If Tulips are wanted by mail add 5c per dozen or 25c per 100 for postage.)

NARCISSUS OR DAFFODILS

Double Golden Yellow Narcissus. Von Sion.
One of the best known, old-fashioned varieties.
Just as popular now as ever.

THERE is no flower in the early spring that to our mind brings such refreshing inspiration as the daffodil. They are such dainty, bright, clean flowers, and their fragrance so delightful that nothing else competes with them when they first come in their spring-time glory.

They are first to come after the dreariness of winter. None of the Narcissus type is more delightful than the daffodil (both single and double) and we have secured a splendid collection of them as offered below and in the succeeding pages.

Plant daffodils in October and November out in the open ground in good soil and let them remain from year to year. The bulbous roots will multiply and send up fine long flower stems every spring.

They can also be grown easily in pots, putting 4 or 5 bulbs into a 5-inch pot and keep well watered.

IRIS

(Fleur-de-Lis)

IRIS, the Greek name for the Rainbow, was applied to this family in allusion to the manner in which many beautiful colors are blended together in the flower. This curious and charming blending of shades in the same flower gives them the appearance of many of our rare Orchids, with which they can well compete in grace and beauty. As cut flowers they are greatly prized, as they last for a long time and the buds open well in water. They are of the simplest culture, succeeding in almost any soil or location. The bulbs should be planted 2 or 3 inches deep and 6 inches apart, and for best effect should be in beds or groups of twenty-five to one hundred or more bulbs; the greater the number the finer the effect. After flowering the bulbs may either be lifted or allowed to remain for another season. The varieties contained in our collection are the finest and most distinct in cultivation.

SPANISH IRIS

These are the most free-flowering and the earliest of all Iris, and should be in every garden. They are the cheapest in price, and can easily be afforded in large quantities for borders or brilliant bedding effects.

German Iris (Flags).

As beautiful as an Orchid. It now comes in a great variety of shades and colors.

LILIES OR LILIUM

LILIES are matchless amongst hardy plants for beauty of form and variety of color in the garden. They commence flowering in May, and with the various species, maintain a continuous and unbroken succession of bloom until autumn. Their stately habit, rich and varied colored flowers, often deliciously fragrant, and of easy culture, render them so distinct from all other hardy plants that no collection, however select, should be without a few of the choicer sorts. The best time to plant Lilies out of doors is in October and November.

Candidum and Harrisii are ready for delivery in August, and the others, with one or two exceptions, in October.

Auratum (Gold-banded Lily). One of the finest and most popular of the hardy garden lilies. The blossoms are composed of six large petals of delicate ivory white, studded with dark crimson spots with a bright golden band running through the center of each petal. The flowers when fully expanded, are nearly a foot in diameter, are very fragrant and bloom from June to October. 15c and 25c each, and $1.50 and $2.50 per dozen, according to size.

Auratum Pictum. Similar in form to the Auratum, but tipped with crimson at the ends of the yellow rays 35c each Candidum (Annunciation Lily; Madonna Lily; St. Joseph's Lily). This is one of the best known and popular of garden Lilies. The flowers are pure snow-white and very fragrant, borne on long stems. It is also a valuable variety for forcing; should be planted early in the autumn, so that it can make some growth before cold weather sets in 15c each; $1.50 per doz.

Harrisii (The Bermuda Easter Lily). This magnificent Lily is undoubtedly the best for winter forcing, as it comes quickly into bloom. The flowers are trumpet-shaped, pure white, gracefully formed and delightfully fragrant. The bulbs should be potted in early fall in rich soil and the pots plunged in sand, where they should be allowed to remain until the approach of cold weather. MORSE'S SUPERB PANSIES

LITTLE praise is needed for this most popular of all flowers, as it is seen everywhere and under all conditions. It is, however, well to mention that, no matter how careful and attentive the grower may be, it is but wasted time if you have not the proper seed to begin with. All our Pansy seed is obtained from the most noted European specialists.

Culture: It thrives best in a moist, shady location and in rich, loamy soil. Seed should be sown in the autumn for early spring blossoms, or can be sown early in the year for good flowers later in the spring. The blossoms are usually larger in the spring and again in the fall, and while it blooms freely all summer, the blossoms are small during the hot months. While the plants carry over well with a little covering during the winter, it is best to plant seed anew each year.

We offer the following extra selected strains of superior large flowers especially for pansy fanciers, all at 25c per pkt.:

SWEET PEAS

Order the Seed and Plant Now

WE are unquestionably the largest growers of Sweet Pea seed in the world, and our immense seed farms about Gilroy in the South Santa Clara Valley are now world renowned.

This popular flower, which is so easily grown anywhere, is especially adapted to California, and most of the seed for the world's supply is grown here. It is of the easiest culture, its only enemies being cut worms and birds, which interfere with the young seedlings. There is no practical remedy for the former, although lime and Paris Green will help somewhat if sprinkled on the young sprouts.

The seed should be sown in the fall in a row, dropping two or three seeds every four inches and covering one or two inches deep. While the growth is very slow in the winter it is very rapid in the spring, and the plants are in full bloom in May, before the dry, hot summer sets in. The seed, however, can be planted any time until April 1, especially near the sea coast where the weather is cool and where fog is prevalent.

Sweet Peas require an abundance of water and an open location.

The water, if possible, should be applied at the roots, and the vines should not be sprinkled. A trellis of brush or strings or chicken wire is necessary.

The flowers should be kept gathered, since if allowed to go to seed the plants will soon stop flowering.

The Sweet Pea is a climbing annual and hardy. The early flowering varieties are generally used for forcing under glass, but they are very desirable also in the garden, and will bloom in February if seed is sown in November.

There is a very long list of varieties, but as the Sweet Pea has been developed and improved, a great many of the older varieties have been discarded. The list we offer represents all the desirable varieties, and every color and shade is included.

NOTE—If any of our customers are familiar with a name of a variety that does not appear here, and will write us for it, we can probably send precisely the same shade of color in an improved variety under one of the names we list here.

The Star (*) indicates our choice of the best varieties in each class.

CUPID SWEET PEAS

These are low-growing or dwarf sweet peas, about one foot high and spreading to about two feet in diameter. The foliage is dark green and the stems are short, usually from three to six inches long. The blossoms, however, are larger than those of the tall varieties.

They are recommended for a border, especially along a drive or walk, and while the early buds drop off, the whole plant finally comes into bloom nicely, and is a perfect mat of bright flowers. While Cupids exist in all the colors and shades found in the tall varieties, we have listed only the best ones and those that are freest flowering. The descriptions are the same as those of the tall varieties.

We are Headquarters in California for Clover and Grass Seeds

A WORD ABOUT YOUR LAWN

TO MAKE A GOOD LAWN: The ground should be thoroughly drained and well prepared. The soil ought not to be too rich, as a rapid growth is not wanted in the grasses of a lawn; but the surface should be as much alike in quality as possible.

After the ground is prepared, have it thoroughly watered and wait two or three weeks for weeds to start, after which hoe the surface—not too deep for the soil does not want to be too soft. It would be well to repeat this operation twice if you have time, for you will save a great deal of time in weeding after the lawn is up.

After sowing, the ground should be rolled in order to press the seed firmly into the soil. The proper time to sow grass seed depends, of course, upon the latitude. On this Coast it may be sown any time from October to March. The sowing should be done when the ground is moist, or before an expected rain. If the ground can be irrigated grass seed can be profitably sown during any month of the year.

All turf-forming grasses are improved, both in vigor and root-growth and in fineness of texture, by frequent mowings. It is impossible to say just how often the grass should be mown, as that depends upon the rate at which it grows. Too close cutting should be guarded against, however, especially during the hot summer months, when the roots require some top-growth to protect them from the burning sun. A good top-growth is also necessary to protect the roots from winter frosts.

The custom of sowing Kentucky Blue Grass or Perennial Rye Grass alone has until quite recently been very generally followed in California, but the result in no way compares with the infinitely superior lawns seen in both public and private grounds throughout the Eastern States. Why? Because a mixture of grasses is used, embracing those of a neat, close growth, best adapted to produce a quick and permanent sod that eventually acquires that smooth, velvety effect so desirable in a fine lawn. We have for some time been experimenting with a view to obtain such a mixture suitable for conditions existing on the Pacific Coast, and have named this formula:

One pound of grass seed is required to seed 250 square feet of lawn. Use half that quantity for renovating old or worn out lawns.

MORSE CALIFORNIA LAWN SEED

This seed is composed entirely of the choicest cleaned seed, and we can guarantee it to contain many times the number of good germinating seeds that can be found in the cheap chaff mixtures so generally offered at low prices. This mixture is absolutely the best that experience can suggest or that money can buy, and the lowest price at which it can be sold is: Lb., 35c; 100 lbs., $30.00.

Our Golden Gate Park Lawn Mixture. We especially recommend this mixture for those requiring a quick-growing, thick, sturdy lawn which remains green all winter as well as other seasons of the year. This variety contains a small proportion of white clover, just enough to make it a thick mat. In pound packages, 35c; 100 lbs., $30.00.

Morse's Velvet Lawn Mixture. A combination of soft, deep green grasses, which form a thick mat especially in the summer. Is easy to cut and easy to grow in good, moist, rich soil. Per lb., 35c; 100 lbs., $30.00.

CLOVER SEED

If ordered by mail, 10 cents per pound must be added for postage.

Alfalfa—One of the most valuable and largely grown forage plants yielding five or six crops of hay in the season, which is relished by all kinds of stock and is very nutritious. Twenty-five to thirty pounds of seed is required for an acre. 20c per lb. Large lots at market prices.

Alsike or Swedish Clover—Succeeds best in cold, stiff soils and in marshy land too wet for other species; is very hardy and withstands severe cold; is a good honey plant for bees. Fifteen pounds to the acre. 25c per lb. Large lots at market rates.

Crimson or Scarlet Clover—Largely grown for improving the soil by turning under; makes a valuable pasture crop, and if for hay should be cut when in full bloom. Sow 15 pounds to the acre. 25c per lb. Large lots at market rates.

Mammoth Red or Sappling Clover—Grows much larger and lasts longer than the common red clover; being a rank grower, it is largely used for soiling. 15 lbs. to the acre. 25c per lb. Large lots at market rates.

Red Clover—Valuable not alone as a forage plant, but also for its fertilizing properties on the soil; makes an excellent quality of hay and can be cut twice a year. 15 lbs. to the acre. 25c per lb. Large lots at market rates.

White Clover—Of dwarf habit with creeping stems, rooting at the joints, on which account it makes an excellent turf that stands constant tramping. Sow 8 to 10 pounds to the acre. 30c per lb. Large lots at market rates.

MUSHROOM SPAWN

Ten pounds will spawn about 10 feet square. Mushrooms can be grown in any dark room or cellar where the temperature can be kept at from 50 to 70 degrees. From some old pasture procure good, rich soil and to every bushel of this soil add two bushels of fresh horse manure. Of this well-mixed compound prepare a bed, say 4 feet wide. Put down a thin layer and pound it down hard, and go on until you have a bed 14 to 18 inches thick. As soon as the temperature of the bed falls from 75 to 50 degrees the spawn may be inserted in pieces about the size of a walnut, about 2 inches deep and 6 inches apart. Cover with loamy soil about 2 inches deep and beat it down evenly and firmly. Finish off with a covering of clean hay about a foot thick and the work is done. If the temperature is right, in six or eight weeks you may expect mushrooms. The beds will continue bearing from 20 to 30 days. After the first crop is gathered spread over the bed an inch of fresh soil, moisten with warm water and cover with hay as before. The main conditions in mushroom growing are proper and uniform temperature and very rich soil.

ENGLISH MUSHROOM SPAWN.

It comes in pressed bricks weighing about 22 ounces. Price per brick, 35c; 5 lbs., $1.25, postpaid. By express, per brick, 20c; 2 for 35c; 10 lbs., $1.25. Book: "Mushrooms; How to Grow Them." By Wm. Falconer..Price $1.00.
